About

Debian

Debian also known as Debian GNU/Linux, is a Linux distribution composed of free and open-source software, developed by the community-supported Debian Project, which was established by Ian Murdock on August 16, 1993. The Debian Stable branch is the most popular edition for personal computers and servers.

Debian is also the basis for many other distributions, most notably Ubuntu. Debian is one of the oldest operating systems based on the Linux kernel. The project is coordinated over the Internet by a team of volunteers guided by the Debian Project Leader and three foundational documents: the Debian Social Contract, the Debian Constitution, and the Debian Free Software Guidelines.

DebConf

DebConf is an annual conference where Debian contributors get together to work on Debian. In 2023, the annual conference was hosted in Kochi, India. The next annual edition will be held in Argentina in 2026.

Debian India

Debian India is a community of Debian conrtibutors, maintainers and developers. The community works on raising awareness about Debian in India and onboard interested people to the project.

To this end, the community actively organises various events such as the Debian Day, Debian release parties, MiniDebConfs and DebUtsavs.

We are also committed towards our non-English speaking communities by running multi-lingual tracks in conferences. DebConf20 included a Malayalam language track, while DebConf21 included talks in Indic languages. MiniDebConf India Online 2021 included Malayalam, Hindi, Telugu etc.

MiniDebConf Kanpur 2026
